RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That the Doing Business in Winnipeg (DBIW) By-law be amended (as per the attached draft amending by-law) in order to prohibit dealers in gold, silver, gems and used jewelry from obtaining Temporary Trade Show Licences, and to require that dealers in gold, silver, gems and used jewelry operate only as permanent precious metals dealers.

2. That the proper Officers of the City be authorized to do all things necessary in order implement the intent of the foregoing.

REASON FOR THE REPORT

On November 30, 2009 the Standing Policy Committee of Protection and Community Services referred the communication dated October 14, 2009 from Collectibles Canada, to the Winnipeg Public Service for review and report back.

On November 10, 2009 the Lord Selkirk-West Kildonan Community Committee referred the communication dated October 14, 2009 from Collectibles Canada (see Appendix A) to the Standing Policy Committee on Protection and Community Services regarding concerns relative to exemptions in the Doing Business in Winnipeg By-law No. 91/2008 as it relates to Temporary Trade Shows outlined in Division nine of the by-law entitled “Business Dealing in Used Goods and Precious Metals”.

IMPLICATIONS OF THE RECOMMENDATIONS

In light of the large number of precious metals dealers purchasing gold and other precious metals, gems and jewelry on a temporary basis, the Winnipeg Police Service (WPS) has reconsidered its earlier risk assessment of this issue. The WPS has concluded that the risk that temporary precious metals dealers will purchase illegally-acquired gold and other precious metals, gems and jewelry has increased dramatically, due largely to the fact that someone possessing these goods need not wait any significant length of time before selling the goods to a temporary dealer.

The recommendations contained within this report mean that any person dealing in gems and other precious stones; gold, silver, platinum and other similar metals and used jewelry could only do so by acquiring an annual license, operating out of a permanent location in Winnipeg and complying with all of the current By-law rules concerning records of identification, acquisition and disposition and a 15 day hold period.

This solution would significantly assist the WPS in identifying illegally-acquired goods of this nature that are being sold to dealers in Winnipeg. It would deter the sale of these goods and assist the police in apprehending the sellers.

HISTORY

The category of Temporary Trade Shows was added as an amendment to the DBIW in July 2008, allowing a legitimate means for groups such as antique dealers, precious metals dealers, bicycle and used goods dealers to engage in transactions with the public for a period of up to seven days.

However, since the introduction of the Temporary Trade Show License in Winnipeg, there has been a dramatic increase in the number of temporary trade shows involving gold buyers. For example, in 2009, four temporary trade show licenses were issued for gold buyers; four licenses have already been issued to gold buyers in the first five months of 2010.

Promoters and participants operating under a Temporary Trade Show License are subject to fewer by-law restrictions than those operating with a permanent license. They are not required, as are permanent license holders to:

- provide daily records of acquisition, disposition, identification and transactions to the WPS
- take photographs or obtain identification from customers
- hold acquired goods on-site for a minimum of 15 days.

The fewer requirements for dealers at temporary trade shows were originally considered appropriate because it was anticipated that the majority of license holders would be coin and other collectors. The WPS did not consider this activity posed the same level of risk of dealing with stolen or other illegally-acquired property as permanent dealers. Moreover, it was thought that relatively few temporary trade shows would take place.

Dear Chairperson and Members of the Lord Selkirk West Kildonan Community,

Re: Community Council Meeting November 10th 2009

Further to our conversation, I would like to request being placed on the above mentioned agenda and appear in delegation regarding the following concern:

CITY BYLAW: # 91 DOING BUSINESS IN WINNIPEG:

 # 65 DIVISION NINE

BUSINESS DEALING IN USED GOODS & PRECIOUS METALS

In the month of July a company (pawn shop from Abbotsford, B.C.) came to Winnipeg for a weekend to purchase gold in a hotel venue. They were issued a license to operate under the temporary tradeshow bylaw. The license was signed by two individuals from the same company to operate for a weekend. They purchased all forms of gold (targeting gold jewelery from citizens of Winnipeg – seniors were the greatest number of responders) they weighed the gold (scale not checked for calibration) assessed a value (far below the market rate) did not report via the business watch program required by licensed Winnipeg brick and mortar businesses, and items were not held for 15 days also required by local licensed businesses. They departed the city after 3 days of buying because they get licensed under the tradeshow bylaw.
This has now again occurred in October- another company, and they "travel across Canada" as told to us by one of our customers. When she questioned where she could reach them as she was #32 and they had just opened their doors to do business.

Points which must be addressed and changes made expeditiously:

*The license requires only two signatures and obviously not from two different companies!

*They did not attain the 5 day advance authorization from the police required for occupying space to hold a trade show and purchase gold.

*They were given a license on the same day they applied, which was hours before they were to open their doors to begin buying gold.

* Local businesses are not allowed to apply for such a license

*Local businesses pay a much higher price for licenses to operate a business in our city.

*Any business dealing in precious metals must report all items

* A licensed business must take pictures of the sellers ID and items being purchased with the individual selling the items present.

*The purchasing item information is sent to the business watch program which we also pay dearly for each transaction.

* Local business must hold the items for 15 days.

*Our reputation being the utmost important factor in this type of business we pay applicable fair market value and work with calibrated scales.

*By definition of a tradeshow the applicants do not qualify:

Tradeshow definition: a tradeshow is an exhibition organized so that companies in a specific industry can showcase and demonstrate their latest products, service, study activities of rivals and examine recent trends and opportunities. Some tradeshows are open to the public while others can only be attended by company representatives (members of the trade); therefore tradeshows are classified as public or trade only.

*The tradeshow license application is a serious loophole in the bylaws which dismisses anyone from having to comply with the precious metal bylaws.

It is imperative that this bylaw be readdressed and amended in an expeditious manner as there are more "weekend events" planned for the very near future in our city.

These operations were not allowed in Alberta and Saskatchewan. Doing

Business in Winnipeg allows them to come into our city and strip unknowing citizens of their precious metals. The media also plays their role in promoting these operations until we decided to try and make the media aware of what they were doing and get them to understand the operation of these "fly by night" venues and they too were appalled that our city bylaws allowed this practice to take place!

I would appreciate addressing this concern in person with a formal presentation of further details and answer questions you may have in order to further understand the implications the bylaws have on local business in Winnipeg. Doing business in Winnipeg should be fair and a level playing field for all entrepreneurs.

Please find attached a Winnipeg Free Press article July 25th addressing the July venue, also attached is the advertisement for the October venue which also had radio advertising . ALSO ATTACHED IS AN AD from Oct 14 - another company coming for 2 DAYS of Buying Militaria + anything of interest
Further research into Brandon bylaws provided us with a possible amendment which could be quickly issued to alleviate this very serious practice; please see attached with highlighted applicable information.
Education of the people issuing licenses would also be a great benefit to the city as the event sponsors did not qualify based on the 5 day advance notice to the Winnipeg police.

I look forward to confirmation of my participation in your November 10th community council meeting

Sincerely
Sheldon Sturrey

Coin-shop owner warns: get fair price for old gold

A local coin-shop owner is warning Winnipeggers to think twice before selling their unwanted rings and chains to dealers that might shortchange them.Sheldon Sturrey, who has owned and operated Collectibles Canada on McPhillips Street for a decade, says a scrap gold and silver buyer in town for a weekend trade show is buying broken or unwanted gold jewelry for much less than it's worth.

"The public is getting totally taken advantage of," said Sturrey, a certified dealer for the Royal Canadian Mint who also buys scrap metal. "If people want to go there once they have all the facts, that's their business. But it's certainly not all it's cracked up to be."

But Brad Henley, who is running the weekend show at the Victoria Inn, said his rates are "absolutely" fair and people unhappy with the price he quotes are under no obligation to sell him their old jewelry.

Henley owns the Henley's Trading Post pawn shop in Abbotsford and runs www.homegoldparties.ca, a site that helps people host gold parties in their homes and get a cut of the profits. Henley also puts on his own gold shows, like the one this weekend in a small meeting room at the Victoria Inn where three jewellers inspected and weighed chains, rings, earrings and other gold belonging to walk-in clients.

Henley was offering to pay roughly $6.94 per gram for 10-karat gold and about $9.70 for a gram of 14-karat gold.

But Sturrey said he offers nearly double what Henley does, closer to $12 for a gram of 10-karat gold.

The prices offered at the Victoria Inn show aren't much better than a pawn shop offers, said Sturrey.

Kitco, a major raw metal vendor and refining company, offers to pay more than $11.89 per gram of 10-karat gold to pawn shops, jewellers and dentists with unwanted scrap metal, according to the company's website. The going price for 14-karat was $16.88.

"It's buyer bewere," said Sturrey.

But Henley said he is offering a competitive price, especially since the service is more convenient and pleasant than selling old gold to an inner-city pawn shop. And he said he is incurring some risks since the price of unrefined gold on the spot market fluctuates.

Henley's business, which has received local media attention, is part of a new phenomenon fuelled by the recession and late-night TV ads in which companies offer to buy people's unwanted jewelry, melt it down and reuse it.

Schools ordered to

By Nick Martin

EDUCATION Minister Peter Bjornson has ordered school divisions to begin immediately posting online the level of absence for each school on a daily basis — either a message of no unusual absenteeism, or higher than usual absenteeism.

Bjornson's letter sent out Tuesday does not define unusual absenteeism, nor does it make any reference to the H1N1 flu.

Bjornson announced two weeks ago that divisions would have to provide daily updates of absenteeism on their websites, but only put it in writing Tuesday.

So far in the city, only Pembina Trails School Division had been posting a daily update of school-by-school absences 10 per cent above the seasonal norms. And to date, none has had that many students absent.

That 10-per-cent-above-usual figure was previously to have triggered schools alerting their public health nurse, but Bjornson's letter emphasizes that schools must post publicly anything above normal absences.
