REASON FOR THE REPORT

This building was on the Inventory of Buildings under the former Historical Buildings By-law 1474/77, and pursuant to the provisions of the Historical Resource By-law 55/2014 section 8(4), it was deemed nominated to be added to the List of Historical Resources on the date that the new Historical Resources By-law 55/2014 came into effect.

Subject to this nomination, the Historical Buildings and Resources Committee (HBRC) reviewed this resource on June 18, 2015 and and recommended to the Standing Policy Committee on Downtown Development, Heritage and Riverbank Management (SPC DDHRM) that the Maw Block, 280 William Avenue, be added to the List of Historical Resources because of its outstanding architectural and historical significance and the heritage value it embodies.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Historical Resource By-law 55/2014 section 17, the SPC on DDHRM must consider the recommendations from the HBRC within 90 days after receiving the recommendation. The Director is authorized to provide a report with respect to the nomination for consideration by the SPC on DDHRM at the time it considers the recommendations of the HBRC.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Public Service and the Historical Buildings and Resources Committee recommend that this building be added to the List of Historical Resources because of its outstanding historical and architectural significance in the heritage value it embodies.

The owner of the building is supportive of the recommendation.

IMPLICATIONS OF THE RECOMMENDATIONS

280 William Avenue, Maw Block, will be added to the List of Historical Resources:

- A Historic Property Notice (caveat) will be filed against the title of the building with the Winnipeg Land Titles Office as per City of Winnipeg Charter Section 157.1(3) in order to notify the owner(s) and potential purchasers that the property is identified on the List of Historical Resources, and as such is subject to the Historical Resources By-law No. 55/2014.
- Any alterations to the Character-Defining Elements (above) will require approval under a Heritage Permit as per the Historical Resources By-law No. 55/2014.
- The resource will not be able to be demolished without the approval of City Council.
- The resource will be eligible for applicable heritage grants issued under the Province of Manitoba and the City of Winnipeg, and will be viewed favourably by other granting agencies.

HISTORY

As a part of the nomination process, the Historical Buildings and Resources Committee (HBRC) toured the resource on April 2, 2015 in order to identify the proposed Character-Defining Elements of the resource that should be protected.

The City of Winnipeg is the owner of the building and is supportive of the Listing (see Appendix B for owner's submission). The building is currently occupied.

The building is deemed to embody heritage values attributed to the following:

1. It was built in 1924 to replace a previous structure and is illustrative of the importance of the Market Square area and the demand for modern retail/office space in post-World War I downtown Winnipeg;
2. Its connection to the Maw family, pioneer carriage and automobile retailers;
3. Its architect, J.H.G. Russell, was a well-known and prolific designer in the early 20th century;
4. Its design, materials and method of construction are all good examples of the period;
5. Its corner location make it an important contributor to two streetscapes in the Exchange District National Historic Site; and
6. Many of its original exterior features have remained intact.

The Public Service is taking action to conserve architecturally and historically significant buildings within the Exchange District National Historic Site (EDNHS). Out of over 130 buildings that are nominated to be added to the List of Historical Resources, 32 of these are within the EDNHS boundary.

Appendix A
Joseph Maw Block, 280 William Avenue

This two-storey, classically-detailed, solid brick block was built on the southwest corner of King Street in 1924 to replace the 1898 structure that had been destroyed by fire the same year.

Noted local architect J.H.G. Russell (1862-1946), was responsible for the design of the block. His practice began in 1895 and lasted well into the 20th century and he designed some many fine warehouses, churches and commercial buildings across Western Canada. Malcom Brothers, another influential local firm, built the structure.

The block measures 15.3 metres along William Avenue and 29.3 metres along King Street and cost $15,000 to complete. It rests on a 53.3-centimetre rubblestone foundation and the building is supported by a wood beam and post structural system. The front (north) façade includes a centrally-placed entrance set in an unadorned smooth stone frame. Paired, attached columns with stone bases and capitals are located on either side of the entrance and at the corners; the brick is laid to mimic wide columns. A metal cornice acts as a continuous sill for the second storey windows. This cornice wraps around the northeast corner and runs the entire length of the east façade. The second floor of the north elevation features recessed window pairs accented by stylized stone continuous lintels. Above this element is an overhanging cornice and the façade is finished with a stepped brick parapet.

The east façade is a continuation of the layout and design of the front façade and includes a door at the south end. The west elevation is hidden by the neighbouring building and the rear (south) façade features a centrally located door and a number of windows in arched openings with stone lug sills on both floors.

The original interior was laid out as offices for a government employment services department – with separate men's and women's waiting areas and several private offices on the ground floor and private offices, public space and a billiard room on the second floor. Today, both floors have been renovated into modern office space.

The block was originally owned by the estate of Joseph Maw (1854-1916), early Winnipeg carriage retailer and pioneer Western Canadian automobile. It originally held the Labour Employment Services of Canada offices and was sold to the provincial government in 1931, which housed various departments and branches in the building. In the late 1960s, the building was sold to the City of Winnipeg and most recently was used by the Police department.

It is located on a busy intersection in the heart of Winnipeg's Exchange District National Historic Site and is an important contributor to two of the area's major streetscapes.
