RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That the attached amendment to the Frontage Levy By-Law No. 7958/2002 – to align the definitions contained within the by-law with current practice - be enacted.

2. That the Proper Officers do all things necessary to implement the intent of the foregoing.

IMPLICATIONS OF THE RECOMMENDATIONS

The recommended amendment to the Frontage Levy By-Law No. 7958/2002 will clarify the definition of “Frontage”. In doing so, the amended language in the By-Law will clarify the original intent of the By-Law, and will align with the actual administrative methodology used for calculating frontage levies on commercial and residential properties.

There are no financial implications associated with this amendment.

HISTORY

Subsection 432(1) of The City of Winnipeg Charter ("the Charter") provides Council the authority to adopt a by-law that imposes frontage taxes on real property that is determined to abut or front on a street or right-of-way, a back lane, or a water main or sewer main.

Subsection 432(2) of the Charter requires the establishment of a uniform rate to be applied throughout the city for each frontage tax imposed. Currently, the City has established by by-law, uniform frontage levies for properties fronting on water mains ($0.65) and sewer mains ($1.90), for a total of $2.55 per frontage foot for most properties in the City.

The uniform rate is applied against the calculation of the frontage feet attributable to each property serviced by a water main and/or a sewer main.

The way in which frontage feet is calculated for properties has remained unchanged since 1973 - some 36 years. In general, the current frontage levy is determined by the extent to which a property abuts directly on a street containing a main of the City's waterworks.

This calculation is applied to commercial and residential properties alike. Though for residential properties that abut two intersecting streets (i.e. corner lots), the frontage feet calculation applies only to the shorter of the two sides, whereas the frontage feet calculation for commercial properties will include all sides that abut on a street.

DISCUSSION:

The way in which the term "Frontage" is currently defined in the Frontage Levy By-Law No. 7958/2002 ("the By-Law") does not make clear the distinction used to calculate the frontage for commercial versus residential properties.

The recommended amendment will clarify the original intent of the By-Law, and will ensure the language in the By-Law is consistent with the way in which frontages are calculated for commercial and residential properties.
