6. Staff say they need another 60 days. Have any of you asked why so many staff assignments are not being submitted on time? Over the past 65 years, I have submitted thousands of reports. I cannot recall any that were more than hours late. I oppose this delay, but does it really matter? If a library has shelves of books to read, but most of the books that you need for your research are locked up, that library has failed to serve you. If they boast about how many books are available, but you cannot read the stuff you need, the boast rings hollow.
