Since the election, I have spoken here many, many times, consistently calling for less spending. I am the one you see most often, but be assured that there are hundreds of thousands of us that don't want higher taxes and we vote.
Months ago, you said you would not pay the salaries of those whose main job is to have their hands out.
For a moment Winnipeg taxpayers had hope. The policy was good, and you followed it. As soon as you saw some signs on your plaza, you abandoned policy, and voted to throw our money at them. That was just one mistake of hundreds that I have witnessed. As the Finance Minister explained to me just days ago, the Mayor was aware of city finances long before he was elected. I believe that he is a good person. It is sad to realize that he was not able to resist the myriad temptations to spend, and here we are. Even deeper in debt than 2 years ago. This council must respect their promise to limit spending.
