REPORT SUMMARY

KEY ISSUES: In 2000, the Rural Municipality of East St. Paul launched a legal proceeding to settle a disputed provision of an agreement under which the City of Winnipeg provided sewer, water and land drainage services to East St. Paul residences on Glenway Avenue. In addition to settling the terms of a new agreement, the negotiations addressed outstanding issues arising from the old agreement and outstanding issues that have arisen in the time period since the lapse of the agreement.

REPORT

REASON FOR THE REPORT:

Section 211 of the City of Winnipeg Charter gives City Council the authority to enter into servicing agreements with adjacent municipalities.

HISTORY:

On November 9, 1976 the City of Winnipeg entered into a servicing agreement with the Rural Municipality of East St. Paul.

In 1996, City Council approved an increase to the sewer maintenance frontage levy.

In 1998 and 1999, the Rural Municipality of East St. Paul started withholding payment of the sewer maintenance frontage levy to the City although they had collected these charges from the East St. Paul residents on Glenway Avenue.

In 2000, the Rural Municipality of East St. Paul launched a legal proceeding for a determination of its residents' obligation to pay the sewer maintenance frontage levy, and they withheld payment of all charges associated with the provision of services.

In 2001 while conducting research in preparation for this legal proceeding, the City's Legal Services Division concluded that the agreement had in fact ended in 1996. The Rural Municipality of East St. Paul agreed and discontinued its legal action.

On January 20, 2003, the Chief Administrative Officer of East St. Paul wrote to the City indicating that the Council of East St. Paul would like to proceed with negotiating a new agreement.

On May 28, 2003, Winnipeg City Council adopted Item No. 4 of the Report of the Standing Policy Committee on Public Works dated May 13, 2003, regarding the servicing agreement between the Rural Municipality of East St. Paul and the City of Winnipeg for water, sewer and land drainage services on Glenway Avenue. Council authorized the Water and Waste Department to "negotiate a new servicing agreement with the Rural Municipality of East St. Paul for continued service on a boundary street for approval by City Council and for outstanding arrears from a lapsed agreement".

DISCUSSION:

The Servicing Agreement signed in 1976 obligated the City, subject to a successfully petitioned local improvement, to construct wastewater sewers, land drainage sewers and watermains on Glenway Avenue, between Henderson Highway and Raleigh Street, which is laterally contiguous to the boundary line between Winnipeg and East St. Paul. After construction of said works East

St. Paul was obligated to pay their share of the capital cost and collect and remit to the City quarterly water and sewer charges, frontage levies for maintenance and renewal and hydrant charges. Until 1997 East St. Paul collected the relevant charges and fees, including frontage levies, from the residents in East St. Paul on Glenway Avenue and provided them to the City.

Between 1996 and 2001, the City increased the sewer frontage levy for the purposes of increasing funding to the sewer renewal program and for the basement flood relief capital program. The total sewer frontage levy increased from $0.70 per foot in 1996 to $1.90 per foot in 2001. Of these totals, the basement flood relief program comprised $0.10 per foot in 1996 and increased to $0.75 per foot by 2001. East St. Paul considered the charges for the basement flood relief program to be outside the scope of the original 1976 Servicing Agreement. The City took the view that the sewer frontage levy comprised a legitimate charge for services and therefore was owed to the City. Pending resolution of this disagreement, East St. Paul collected the portion of the levy attributable to the basement flood relief program from the residents and remitted it to the City in 1996 and 1997, but in 1998 and 1999, withheld payment for this portion from the City. From 2000 to 2004 East St. Paul withheld all frontage charges associated with the provision of services. The City considers East St. Paul to owe a total of $94,771.20 not including interest and penalties for past frontage charges.

In order to resolve this dispute, in January 2000 East St. Paul applied to the Court for an interpretation of the Agreement. While conducting research in preparation for this legal proceeding the City's Legal Services Division came to the conclusion that the provisions of the City of Winnipeg Act limited the duration of the Agreement with East St. Paul to a maximum term of 20 years. As a result, despite the fact that neither party was aware of it at the time, the Agreement ended in 1996. East St. Paul agreed with this conclusion and agreed to discontinue its application for judicial interpretation of the Agreement without costs to either side.

The fact that the Agreement ended in 1996 means that East St. Paul is currently not obliged to collect and pay for the City's services. However, it also means that the City has no obligation to provide services to these residents. A negotiation with a view to a new agreement was in the interests of both parties. The future obligation of residents of East St. Paul to pay the frontage levy was addressed in the course of these negotiations.

In January 2003 the Chief Administrative Officer of East St. Paul wrote to the City indicating that the Council of the R.M. of East St. Paul would "like to proceed with negotiating a new agreement". Subsequently City Council authorized the administration to undertake negotiations and develop an agreement for Council approval. The fundamental principles of the negotiations involved:

- Compliance with the City's Water By-law and Sewer By-law;
- Collection and remittance of all water and sewer charges to the City;
- Collection and remittance of all frontage and maintenance charges to the City;
- Remittance of all outstanding charges collected since 1998, plus interest and penalties.

Following several information sharing meetings, including a public meeting with affected area residents, The Chief Administrative Officer of East St. Paul and the City's negotiator developed a new agreement. This draft agreement (copy attached as Appendix "A") has been reviewed by the Legal Services Division of the Corporate Services Department, Water and Waste Department Staff and the Council of the R.M. of East St. Paul. Each of the foregoing is in agreement with the form and content of the document.

Throughout the period of dispute East St. Paul has been applying a frontage levy to the affected residents and holding the collected monies in a separate interest bearing account. It has been agreed administratively that the arrears plus accumulated interest would be turned over to the City to satisfy the financial obligations flowing from the past dispute. The total amount is $100,046.12. The two parties agree on this amount. While the Council order contemplated the collection of interest and penalties there is no statutory provision for imposing a penalty since no formal agreement exists between the parties, rather this is a negotiated settlement. It is the view of the administration that paying arrears plus interest is an appropriate way to settle this long standing dispute.

During the course of the negotiations it was found that another lapsed agreement existed dated July 15, 1997. The agreement was for servicing on McNair Crescent (now called Glenway) which runs west of Henderson Highway to Eastwood Drive. There are three houses on this section. This settlement and the new agreement also address this issue.
