REASON FOR THE REPORT:

Council directed Administration to begin preparation of action plans to develop the strategic initiatives associated with each policy pathway as outlined in "First Steps: Municipal Aboriginal Pathways" and report back to Executive Policy Committee. One of the strategic initiatives listed under the "Quality of Life Pathway" is Aboriginal Housing.

HISTORY:

On September 24, 2003, Council adopted First Steps: Municipal Aboriginal Pathways, which identifies Aboriginal housing as one of the strategic initiatives necessary to improve quality of life of Aboriginal citizens. This document states, "The City of Winnipeg will work with its partners to ensure that existing and future municipal housing initiatives include a focus on providing safe and affordable accommodation for Winnipeg's Aboriginal citizens."

On March 22, 2005, Council adopted funding of $940,000 for the City's Affordable Housing Initiative that was provided from the General Purpose Reserve to the Housing Rehabilitation Investment Reserve of which $200,000 was designated for Aboriginal Housing.

DISCUSSION:

Plan Winnipeg 2020 (i.e. policy statement 2A-03) states that the City of Winnipeg is to promote self-reliant Aboriginal communities by supporting the creation of links between the City of Winnipeg and Aboriginal communities to ensure appropriateness of services and to increase Aboriginal participation in City affairs. In addition, the First Steps: Municipal Aboriginal Pathways specifically identifies Aboriginal housing as one of the City's strategic initiatives necessary to improve quality of life of Aboriginal citizens. It states that "The City of Winnipeg will work with its partners to ensure that existing and future municipal housing initiatives include a focus on providing safe and affordable accommodation for Winnipeg's Aboriginal citizens."

So far, the City has provided some funding from the Housing Rehabilitation Investment Reserve (HRIR) to Aboriginal housing organizations through the City's Neighbourhood Housing Program. This funding was provided to support repairs to housing owned and managed by Aboriginal housing organizations, where no other funding supports were available. The majority of the funding provided was applied to projects in Major Improvement Zones or Rehabilitation Areas (see Appendix B); however, Aboriginal housing is intentionally spread throughout the city and is not restricted to the inner city. Therefore, there is a need for some geographic flexibility when evaluating projects destined to support Aboriginal housing. Due to the need of Winnipeg's Aboriginal housing providers, some funding has been applied to houses in areas technically outside of the current mandate of the City's Neighbourhood Housing Program.

While the City of Winnipeg has identified both need and funding to support Aboriginal housing, it currently has no program under the Housing Rehabilitation Investment Reserve (HRIR) with which to distribute designated funds for Aboriginal housing. Normal procedure for the City's Winnipeg Housing and Homelessness Initiative (WHHI) branch is to seek community input and endorsement for funding requests and work with Neighbourhood Associations and Neighbourhood Renewal Corporations to guide the community consultation process. As mentioned previously, Aboriginal housing is not limited to any specific neighbourhood, so WHHI has approached the Manitoba Urban Native Housing Association (MUNHA) to represent the Aboriginal community in Winnipeg.

MUNHA is a registered non-profit organization that coordinates Aboriginal housing activity across Manitoba. The organization has eight members that manage housing for Aboriginal people in Winnipeg. The City's WHHI branch is working with those members to decide cooperatively how funding might best serve Aboriginal housing needs in Winnipeg. Accordingly, a new program has been drafted in partnership with representatives of the Aboriginal community to address community needs based on population rather than geographic neighbourhood boundaries.

The proposed Aboriginal Housing Program is based on the existing Neighbourhood Housing Program of the City's Affordable Housing Initiative. Modifications included: expanding the geographic scope of the program to cover Aboriginal housing throughout Winnipeg (rather than limiting funding to Major Improvement Areas); specifying that funding is designated to provide safe and affordable housing for Aboriginal people living in Winnipeg, and; requiring that project proponents demonstrate support of the Aboriginal community. MUNHA has endorsed the wording and intent of the proposed new program.

City Administration is supportive of this approach. It is recommending the appended program to provide support to Aboriginal housing and clarify the eligibility criteria to access the funds designated by Council for this initiative.

Financial Impact Statement Date: January 20, 2006

COMMENTS:

The recommendation in this report is that the Housing Steering Committee approve the draft Aboriginal Housing Program for the administration of funding from the Housing Rehabilitation Investment Reserve. The $200,000 in funding was approved by Council in March 2005. As such, there are no financial implications associated with this recommendation.
