Subject: To subdivide an existing parcel into two parcels, Lot 1 and Lot 2, Lot 1 to retain its current "RM-7" Multiple Family zoning and proposed Lot 2 to be rezoned to a " C2" Commercial category.

Location: 231 Goulet Street
Legal Description: Lot 2 , Plan 8898

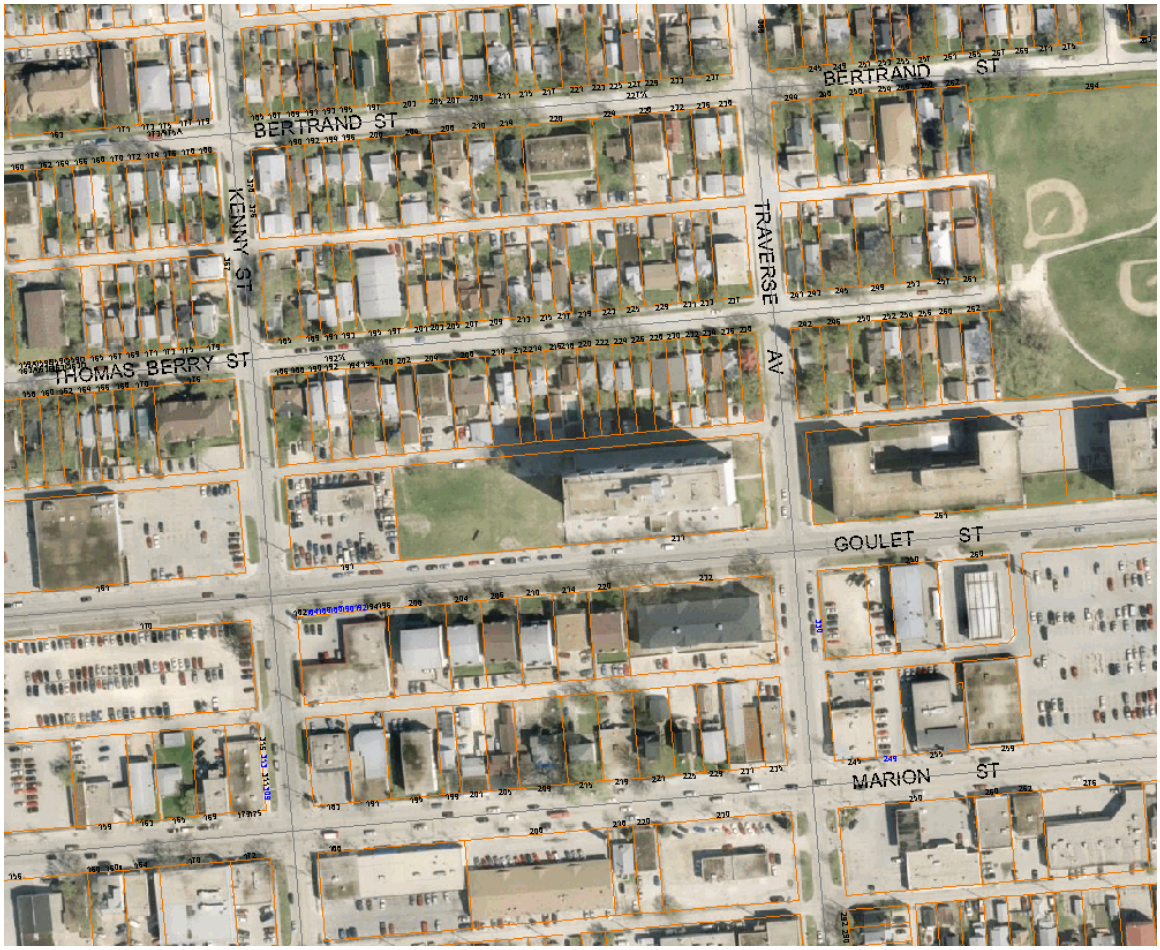

Applicant: Edison Rental

Owner: Bergen –Letkemann Apartments

Recommendation: Approval

Site Description:

The overall site area totals approximately an acre and a half, on the eastern portion of which lies a 15 story multiple family complex. The most westerly third of the property (approx. 27,243 sq. ft.) has been vacant for thirty years .The entire parcel is zoned " RM-7" Multiple Family. To the immediate west is a business zoned C2 Commercial. To the north along the south side of Thomas Berry are established single family dwellings zoned " R2-T" Residential. On the south side of Goulet Street, there is a mix of "C2" Commercial business and apartment blocks zoned " RM-4" and "RM-5" Multiple.

Background:

In the mid 1980's through to the early 1990's, the owners of 231 Goulet St. (Chateau Guay Apartments) made a series of applications to obtain permission to construct a second 15 story structure on the west half of the subject property. In every instance there was strong neighbourhood, administrative and ultimately political opposition to an additional tower because of 1) the potential for added traffic problems in the rear lane and 2) the overwhelming impact of having two such imposing structures so close to the single family dwellings on Thomas Berry. It was determined that the shadowing effect and the privacy encroachment issues were significant. The local residents would have probably supported a rezoning of the westerly portion of the lot , at that time, to a low density multiple family category or alternatively a commercial category but the owners did not pursue those avenues. In the latter part of 2006, the applicants did make application to subdivide the property , presumably with the intent of selling the west half of the property for development purposes. At that time , the administration approached the applicants and indicated that we would be unable to support a short form subdivision which would effectively create an even smaller parcel of land still zoned for high density multiple family development. However, we did indicate that if the owners of the land were willing to rezone the west half of the property to a "C2" commercial category, (effectively eliminating the possibility of any future applications for high rise development on the site), then we would endorse their application. The owners agreed and a general application to rezone the west portion of the property is now before your Committee.

Description of the Proposed Development:

There are , at this time ,no specific proposals or prospective tenants for the subject property. However, under the terms of the zoning agreement, final detailed plans must be submitted and reviewed by both the Administration and the Riel Community Committee prior to the issuance of any building permits. Site development issues can be addressed at that time.

Analysis:

It is the view of the Neighbourhood Planning Branch that in the long term, commercial development of the subject site (with strict guidelines for site development) would be a better alternative than the continued possibility of having to deal with ongoing applications for high rise housing development as has been the case in the past. It is unlikely that any onerous or incompatible businesses will be constructed on the subject property given that virtually all potentially contentious uses such as carwashes, convenience stores, drive through restaurants etc. are conditional and not permitted outright under the "C2" zoning. Most "C2" uses which could pose a problem for the adjoining neighbourhood would be subject to a public hearing and be subject to review by the neighbourhood at large. It should be further noted that if the subject parcel is developed in accordance with a high standard of landscaping and building design, this particular stretch of Goulet Street might benefit greatly.

Recommendation:

The Planning and Land Use Division recommends approval of the proposed rezoning and subdivision for the following reasons:

- The proposed zoning with guidelines for development will be a preferable use to the continuing possibility of high density multiple family development.
- The frontage along Goulet Street between Traverse and Kenny Avenues would appear to be appropriate for continued commercial development at a reasonable scale.
