Dear Members of the Community Incentive Grant Program,

As requested this letter includes a brief description of our organizations' history, our mission and goals, current programs and activities. The letter will also include an outlined description of the purpose of this grant.

The St. Vital Museum is a new development that has been created by the St. Vital Historical Society. The Grand Opening occurred in May 2008. The purpose of the Museum is to create displays that give a historical presentation of St. Vital's development and the people who inhabited the district and helped the district to become what it is today. The goal the Museum is to restore artifacts and documentations that have been collected over the years and hope to create a user friendly research center and database based on St Vital and its people.

Brief summary of The St Vital Historical Society

In June 1994, Gordon and Isabelle Hancock convened a meeting of St. Vital citizens in the St.Vital Library to explore the possibility of establishing a history society in St. Vital. Approximately 30 enthusiastic citizens attended and expressed an interest to set up a committee to discuss the feasibility of such a group. The committee consisted of: Gordon Hancock (acting chair), Wilf Mager, Shirley Perron, Pat Main, Hugh Kennedy and Jack Mc Dowell. In September 1994 the committee presented a report and proposal to the second meeting of approximately 40. The group agreed that a society should be established. Thus the life of the St. Vital Historical Society began with the following Board of Directors: Gordon Hancock (President), Hugh Kennedy (1st Vice President), Pat Main (2nd Vice President and Secretary), Jack McDowell (Correspondence Secretary), Irene Gibson (Treasurer), Wilf Mager (Publicity) and Members at Large: Margaret Coleshill, Shirley Perron, Al Morier and Barry Benfield. The society was officially incorporated in 1995 and became the St. Vital Historical Society Inc. In December of 1994 they held their first public open house. This was attended by more than 100 people; many of them long time residents of St. Vital. Memberships were sold for $5.00 and volunteers were welcomed. Many donations of archival material were received at that time.

The Society's first attempt at an interpretive historical presentation was held on April 1, 1995 at the Louis Riel Library. The show was entitled "Walk About-Talk About". It was very successful. Following this, incorporation and status as a registered charity was achieved, and a regular schedule of thematic historical presentations on St. Vitals history had begun. As of December 1996, the membership had grown to include more than 200 members. Members were doing Mini Thematic (displays) at the area libraries using display boards. The Society was also continuing to function as a mobile museum doing thematic historical displays throughout the community.

The St. Vital Historical Society's Mission and Goals

The St. Vital Historical Society was established to:

- Identify, collect and preserve articles and items related to the history of the St. Vital Community
- Conduct programs that allow public access to this history
- Provide a place for the study of St. Vital history (archives)
- Make regular 'Thematic Presentations' throughout the Community
- Present Mini-Themes on a Mobile Display Board which would travel throughout the Community to such places as libraries, schools, and senior centers, in order to reach a wider population
