IMPLICATIONS OF THE RECOMMENDATIONS

Implementation of the 2010 Home Renovation Tax Assistance Program will continue to provide an economic incentive for homeowners to renovate and maintain their homes which contribute to the viability of older neighbourhoods.

The HRTA Program reduces the perception that property owners are penalized by tax increases for improving their properties and it encourages property owners to take out building permits thereby promoting the quality of construction in meeting applicable building, electrical and plumbing codes.

The Program also encourages energy efficient renovations by providing additional tax credits through harmonization with the technical requirements of the Manitoba Hydro Power Smart Program.

Allowing eligible renovation projects that commenced after January 1, 2010 but prior to Council's approval of the HRTA Program By-Law, to be included in the Program will allow for more construction projects to be completed within the current program year thereby increasing the rate of completions. This will help to prevent program funds from being allocated against projects that are not completed within the program year.

Allocation of $221,000 in unspent HRTA programs budget in 2009 to the 2010 HRTA Program increases the total maximum allocation from $975,000 to $1,196,000 or approximately $399,000 per year (2011 to 2013).

HISTORY

2009 HRTA Program Summary

The 2009 HRTA Program closed in December after generating 832 applications from owners with eligible properties. Of these, 131 qualified for the energy efficient Power Smart tax credit.

Of the 832 applications, 470 or 57 % were completed prior to the December 31, 2009 deadline. These files have a construction value of $6,669,756 and have been applied toward tax credits for the 2009 HRTA Program year to be issued over three consecutive tax years in 2010, 2011 and 2012. The total value of tax credits generated by the 2009 Program is $484,680 or $161,560 per year to be issued over three consecutive years.

In 2009, $221,000 of the $785,000 budgeted for HRTA programs remained unspent and, pursuant to Council direction, these funds were transferred to the Housing Rehabilitation Investment Reserve Fund (HRIR) and are to be allocated to the 2010 Program.

While unlikely to be significant, any interest accruing on the transferred amount will remain in the HRIR to be used as a funding source for its programs.

Program Operating Principles

Since 2006, the HRTA program has functioned in accordance with the following principles which Council has established to implement subsequent HRTA programs:

1. That all residential units must be 25 years of age or older to qualify, based on the premise that single-family houses generally need major repairs and renovations after 25 years.
2. That the HRTA program be open to a minimum of 50% of all residential units in Winnipeg.

According to the City's Assessment and Taxation Department records, Winnipeg presently has 189,608 residential dwellings. Of this total, almost 90,000 properties or 47% have an assessment of $192,000 or less and were constructed prior to 1985. Although the principle of 50% of single family dwellings is used to determine the assessed value to be applied, the by-law does allow other types of dwellings, if owner occupied, to be eligible. Residential side-by-side, duplex, triplex, condos, etc. can also apply for the HRTA program. (Refer to attached Appendix III: Assessment Statistics for Proposed 2010 HRTA Program).

The total number of eligible properties is only slightly higher than last year but the assessed value is much higher which reflects a City - wide average increase in residential property values.

The Public Service recommends that the eligibility criteria for the 2010 Program should be adjusted to provide for an assessed value of $192,000 in order to implement the principle of capturing a minimum of approximately 50% of the eligible housing unit stock.

At present, the Program is adhering to the previously established HRTA Program Principles and is able to successfully commit all of the available budget funds within the existing eligibility criteria. Generally, the Program runs out of budget funds within approximately seven months.

Consequently the Public Service recommends that the 2010 HRTA Program be approved with the same eligibility criteria and residential unit conditions as the 2009 Program but with one change to how the program is administered as follows.

In previous years, if an eligible renovation was applied for prior to the approval of the HRTA Program By-Law by Council for that year the project was not included in the Program. Commencing with the 2010 Program, the Public Service recommends that eligible projects with building permits applied for after January 1 now be entered into the program once the HRTA Program By-Law is approved by Council.

Additional Comments: Tax credits to be paid pursuant to the 2010 HRTA Program will be funded from PP&D's 2011 to 2013 current budgets (i.e. there is no budget impact in the year in which the by-law is passed). Direct costs in 2011 consist of the $190,000, $162,000 and $399,000 in credits from the 2008 to 2010 Programs respectively. The latter amount is based on the assumption that maximum available credits are allocated (i.e. $325,000 2010 Program maximum + $74,000 carry-forward amount). Incremental revenues of $74,000 in 2011 and 2012 represents the transfer of remaining HRTA budget from 2009 to the 2010 Program (i.e. $221,000 allocated over 3 years). Direct costs in 2012 consist of $162,000 from the 2009 Program and , $399,000 from each of the 2010 & 2011 Programs. The latter amount is based on the assumption that there will be no remaining HRTA program budget at the end of 2010. Existing budget amounts are those included in the 2010 Preliminary Budget and 2011 and 2012 forecast.
