4. That the Proper Officers of the City be authorized to do all things necessary to implement the intent of the foregoing.

REASON FOR THE REPORT

Council approval is required to establish the 2011 Home Renovation Tax Assistance Program.

IMPLICATIONS OF THE RECOMMENDATIONS

Implementation of the 2011 Home Renovation Tax Assistance Program will continue to provide an economic incentive for homeowners to renovate and maintain their homes which contribute to the viability of older neighbourhoods.

The HRTA Program reduces the perception that property owners are penalized by tax increases for improving their properties and it encourages property owners to take out building permits thereby promoting the quality of construction in meeting applicable building, electrical and plumbing codes.

The Program also encourages energy efficient renovations by providing additional tax credits through harmonization with the technical requirements of the Manitoba Hydro Power Smart Program.

The transfer of $487,500 of prior years' unspent HRTA program budgets to the Planning, Property and Development Department's (PP&D) 2012 operating budget will allow approximately $342,000 in additional funding for the 2011 HRTA Program. That is, the $342,000 (i.e. $114,000 per year from 2012 to 2014) increases the total maximum allocation from $487,500 to approximately $601,000 per year allowing for up to 802 approved applicants.

Current, transitional and future budget impact implications are outlined in a table and attached as Appendix 5.

HISTORY

2010 HRTA Program Summary

The 2010 HRTA Program closed in December after generating 639 applications from owners with eligible properties. Of these, 54 qualified for the energy efficient Power Smart tax credit.

Of the 639 applications, 334 or 52 % were completed prior to the December 31, 2010 deadline. These files have a construction value of $5,361,892 and have been applied toward tax credits for the 2010 HRTA Program year to be issued over three consecutive tax years in 2011, 2012 and 2013. The total value of tax credits generated by the 2010 Program is $419,124 or $139,708 per year to be issued over three consecutive years.

In 2010, $395,000 of the $880,000 budgeted for HRTA programs remained unspent and, pursuant to Council direction, these funds were transferred to the Housing Rehabilitation Investment Reserve Fund (HRIR) bringing the balance of unexpended HRTA funding in the Reserve to $616,000. (See Appendix 5 for further details.)

Although the program was adjusted to allow for eligible projects to be retroactively included in the program from January 1 after the 2010 HRTA Program By-Law was enacted, there were still surplus funds available when the program closed at the end of November.

Program Operating Principles

Since 2006, the HRTA program has functioned in accordance with the following principles which Council has established to implement subsequent HRTA programs:

1. That all residential units must be 25 years of age or older to qualify, based on the premise that single-family houses generally need major repairs and renovations after 25 years.
2. That the HRTA program be open to a minimum of 50% of all residential units in Winnipeg.

According to the City's Assessment and Taxation Department records, Winnipeg presently has 189,328 residential dwellings. Of this total, almost 90,000 properties or 47% have an assessment of $192,000 or less and were constructed prior to 1985. Although the principle of 50% of single family dwellings is used to determine the assessed value to be applied, the by-law does allow other types of dwellings, if owner occupied, to be eligible. Residential side-by-side, duplex, triplex, condos, etc. can also apply for the HRTA program. (Refer to attached Appendix III: Assessment Statistics for Proposed 2011 HRTA Program).

The total number of eligible properties and the assessed value is consistent with last year's HRTA Program eligibility criteria. The Public Service recommends that the eligibility criteria for the 2011 Program should not be adjusted in order to implement the principle of capturing a minimum of approximately 50% of the eligible housing unit stock.

At present, the Program is adhering to the previously established HRTA Program Principles but continues to experience unexpended funds within the existing eligibility criteria. In the past, the Program has allocated all budget funds within approximately seven months; however, since 2008 there has been unused budget and a reduction in both the number of applications and the number of project completions.

In order to encourage more applications and a higher rate of project completions, the Public Service recommends that for the 2011 HRTA Program, the annual tax credit amount be increased from $500 to $750 with a total maximum credit of $2,250 for an eligible property. An annual tax credit of $750 would allow for approximately 800 applications to be approved (i.e. $601,500 annual Program budget divided by the maximum credit of $750 equates to 802 applicants per year over the three years of the 2011 HRTA Program).

Additional Comments: Tax credits to be paid pursuant to the 2011 HRTA Program will be funded from PP&D's 2012 to 2014 current budgets (i.e. there is no budget impact in the year in which the by-law is passed). Direct costs in 2012 consist of the $153,676, $139,708 and $601,500 in credits from the 2009 to 2011 Programs respectively. The latter amount is based on the assumption that allocated credits equal the maximum potential credits (i.e. $487,500 annual budget amount + $114,000 available in the HRIR). The Existing Budget Amount in 2012 is based on the assumption that Recommendation 1 (h) is approved. Based on these assumptions, $242,616 in unused HRTA budget in 2012 will be transferred to the HRIR for use in future years. Direct costs in 2013 consist of $139,708 from the 2010 Program and $601,500 from each of the 2011 & 2012 Programs. The latter amount is again based on the assumption that allocated credits equal the maximum potential credits of $601,500 . Existing budget amounts are those included in the 2012 and 2013 financial plans.
