SCHEDULE "A"

Affordable housing is traditionally calculated in relations to household income, and includes separate definitions for rental and home ownership housing. For the purposes of the Winnipeg Housing Steering Committee, affordable housing is defined below.

Affordable Rental Housing

Affordable rental housing is defined as rental housing where the total monthly shelter cost (gross monthly rent including utilities – heat, hydro and hot water) is at or below the median market rent, by unit type (number of bedrooms), as reported annually by the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation, but greater than the rental rates considered to be social housing.

Affordable Ownership Housing

Affordable ownership housing is defined as housing with a purchase price that is affordable to households with income at or below the upper limit of the 2nd quintile of the income distribution (within the lowest 40 per cent), as determined by Statistics Canada. Housing is considered to be affordable when its cost1[1] does not exceed 30% of a household's gross income.

1[1] Monthly housing costs in this calculation include mortgage principal and interest payment amortized over 30 years and assuming a 5 per cent down payment, utilities, insurance, and property taxes. (Affordable ownership price includes GST and any other mandatory costs associated with purchasing the unit.)
