        - Adjust the boundaries of the Sugar Beet Major Redevelopment Site to exclude approximately 45 acres of developed industrial lands in the northeast portion of the site.

REASON FOR THE REPORT

As part of the OurWinnipeg annual report process, updates to the urban structure map are proposed based on actual changes “on the ground” in order to keep it current and ensure that it contributes to the overall OurWinnipeg vision and directions.

IMPLICATIONS OF THE RECOMMENDATIONS

This update will result in the Urban Structure map (figure 02a, on page 11 of Complete Communities) and Employment Lands map (figure 05b, on page 95 of Complete Communities) being replaced with Attachment A and Attachment B respectively. In addition, any other relevant maps (figure 03a and figure 03f) will be updated accordingly.

DISCUSSION

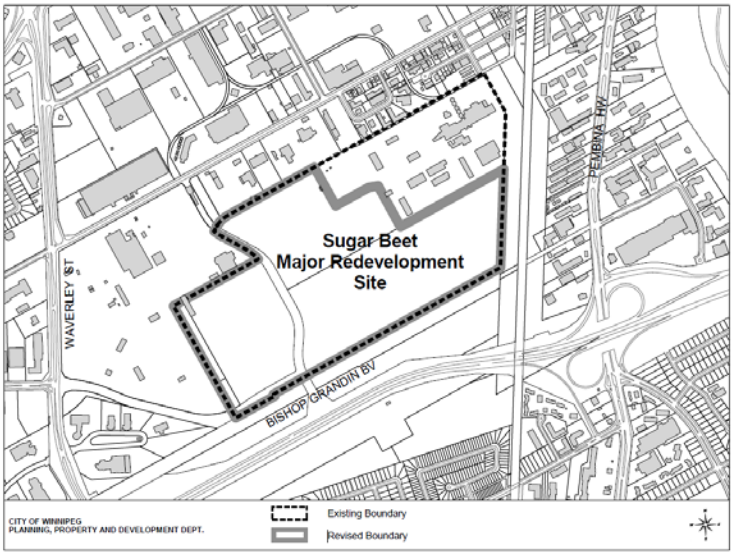

Complete Communities is an innovative, practical "playbook" that guides land use and development for Winnipeg. It is one of four Direction Strategies supporting OurWinnipeg.

The urban structure map, identified in Complete Communities, represents a key pillar of the plan, providing a vision for the arrangement of land uses within the city. The urban structure also identifies areas of the city that provide the best opportunity to accommodate growth and change in the most environmentally, socially and economically sustainable way – Transformative Areas – and areas that will accommodate more moderate levels of growth and change – Areas of Stability.

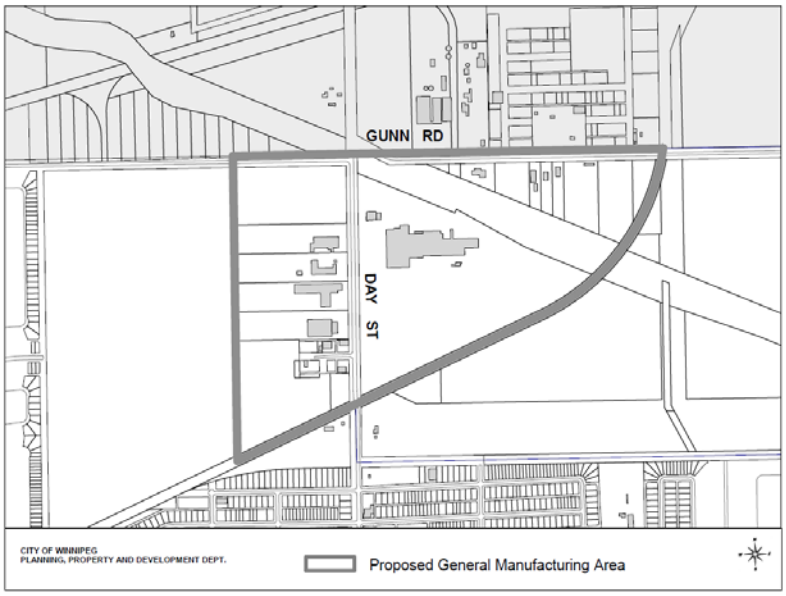

In order to ensure that the urban structure map is current, updates are recommended annually as part of the OurWinnipeg annual report process. This may include: the transitioning of areas from one designation to another; the addition of new Transformative Areas; the adjustment of boundaries; and other changes as identified.

This year, the following changes are recommended to the urban structure map:

- Adjust the boundaries of the Sugar Beet Major Redevelopment Site to exclude approximately 45 acres of developed industrial lands in the northeast portion of the site. These existing industrial lands function as part of the Chevrier Industrial neighbourhood and should not be included within the boundary of the Major Redevelopment site. A planning process would still be required in order to facilitate the development of the remaining ~140 acres of lands that would remain within the Sugar Beet Major Redevelopment Site.

- Add the entire Griffin neighbourhood to "Employment Lands" with the "General Manufacturing" subdesignation. Griffin is currently designated Recent Community but should also be designated as Employment Lands (General Manufacturing), as it exhibits qualities that are more characteristic of this designation. A Manufacturing designation is typically applied to areas that contain a range of industrial, manufacturing and/or warehousing uses. The Griffin Neighbourhood is approximately 120 acres of industrial lands (zoned M2 – Manufacturing General), including a mix of existing industries (Griffin Steel) and some vacant lands.
