Re: Report #2 – Establishment of City of Winnipeg Code of Conduct Committee and Disclosure Process

This matter was initiated at Council on March 20, 2013, and subsequently the Winnipeg Public Service was asked to review it and report back to EPC within two months. In June, EPC extended the deadline for another two months.

It is now six months since the motion was presented at City Council, and still no report has been submitted and placed on EPC's agenda.

There appears to be a pattern of wholesale disregard for the decisions of this and other Council committees. Is EPC going to do something about it?

The existing City of Winnipeg Employee Code of Conduct was adopted by Council in 2001.

It requires that EPC create a "Code of Conduct Committee" of not less than three members of EPC. Why have you not done that?

With the publication the various management audits expected momentarily, the Code of Conduct Committee may well be required to investigate potential complaints and alleged contraventions of the Code, and to take remedial action.
