HISTORY

In the fall of 2011, the Seven Oaks School Division initiated conversations with the Public Service regarding reconfiguration/reorientation of the sports field at Leila North School. The School Division had sold part of their holding that the field was located on and was looking at expanding it to the north.

In November, 2011 the Seven Oaks School Division sent a letter to the City proposing a land exchange for the properties identified as “City Owned Property to be Exchanged” and “Seven Oaks School Division Property” on the attached Misc. Plan No. 8095/5.

The Public Service was supportive of the proposed land exchange for a number of reasons:

- This results in a better consolidation of the School Division’s lands and park lands, respectively – (if the City didn’t pursue this, the School Division would have a small parcel of land separated by park land from the larger school property).
- The land that the City would be getting from the School Division is the most logical location for the continuation of the Amber Trails multi-use path, which would otherwise have required an easement or some other form of agreement with the School Division for construction and maintenance.
- The land that the School Division would be getting from the City provides for opportunities for facility expansion (be it temporary trailers or permanent), without the School Division having to obtain special permission from the City, and
- The land that the School Division would be getting from the City is currently not programmed by the City nor has there been any specific demand or expectations from the neighborhood.

The Department has concluded negotiations with the Seven Oaks School Division in accordance with the terms and conditions dated June 3, 2013.

An equal land exchange was negotiated for the .5 acre parcels. Both parcels are valued equally.

Each party will be responsible for its own subdivisions costs associated with the proposed exchange of lands.

The Public Service is of the opinion that this land exchange will be beneficial to both parties and therefore recommend the City enter into a land exchange with the Seven Oaks School Division in accordance with the terms and conditions dated May 28, 2013.
