EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

On September 4 2019, the Standing Policy Committee on Property and Development, Heritage and Downtown Development adopted a motion to have the Public Service prepare recommendations on the role, responsibilities, membership structure, and a draft Terms of Reference of a Winnipeg Planning Commission.

The City of Winnipeg Charter Act Sections 273(1) grants the City of Winnipeg the powers to create a planning commission with the authority to hold public hearings and make or recommend decisions on a wide spectrum of development applications and planning matters referred by Council.

The attached report, 'Towards a City of Winnipeg Planning Commission' provides background research, context, and a brief analysis on how a planning commission would impact the City of Winnipeg decision-making structure.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That the attached report titled 'Towards a City of Winnipeg Planning Commission' be received as information.

REASON FOR THE REPORT

On September 4th, 2019, the Standing Policy Committee on Property and Development, Heritage and Downtown Development directed the Winnipeg Public Service to engage stakeholders, including key professional organizations, and a Member of Council as an observer to the process, and report back to its March 2020 meeting on the following:

1. Recommendations related to the role, responsibilities and membership structure of a Winnipeg Planning Commission.

2. Draft Terms of Reference for a Winnipeg Planning Commission.

IMPLICATIONS OF THE RECOMMENDATIONS

There are no implications to receiving this report as information.

HISTORY/DISCUSSION

On March 22 2017, Council adopted a motion to include a Civic Governance and Operational Review and Performance Assessment in the 2018 budget, and in 2018 the City of Winnipeg hired a private consultant to undertake a review of the City of Winnipeg governance structure.

On September 4 2019, the Standing Policy Committee on Property and Development, Heritage and Downtown Development directed the Public Service to conduct a scan of planning commissions and to prepare recommendations on the role, responsibilities, membership structure, and draft terms of reference of a Winnipeg Planning Commission. The Standing Policy Committee motion notes the timing of the governance review, along with the provincial legislation, Section 273(1) of the City of Winnipeg Charter Act, which permits Council to establish a planning commission by by-law.

The City of Winnipeg Charter grants the City of Winnipeg the powers to create a planning commission with the authority to hold public hearings and make or recommend decisions on a wide spectrum of development applications. In addition, a planning commission may be granted the authority to make recommendations on ‘any planning or development matter referred to by Council’. However, under the current version of The City of Winnipeg Charter, a planning commission does not have the authority to hold appeals on development applications – this power remains with Council or a committee of Council.

If a City of Winnipeg Planning Commission is to hold public hearings, it would impact the roles and responsibilities of existing public hearing bodies of Council. It would also duplicate the mandate and authorities of other existing decision-making bodies. This speaks to the need for a comprehensive review of the various governance structures in advance of consideration for the creation of a planning commission. Given the extent of impacts that a planning commission could have on City of Winnipeg decision-making processes, consideration for a planning commission would be best considered and evaluated in the context of the Civic Governance and Operational Review and Performance Assessment.
