Petition to City of Winnipeg regarding the Responsible Pet Ownership By-law Review

April 19th, 2021

To the Executive Policy Committee

From: Manitoba Canary and Finch Club

In May 2021 the Standing Policy Committee directed the Winnipeg Public Service to review and recommend amendments to the Responsible Pet Ownership By-law (RPO). In August 2021 Winnipeg Animal Services and the Public Engagement Branch released proposed RPO amendments for public comment. This petition with 7,980 signatures (as of November 28th 2021) is submitted by the Manitoba Canary and Finch Club (MCFC) in response to the proposed specialty pet amendments that address "strengthen[ing] the by-law with any required by-law amendments to mitigate impacts of pet hoarding, include a limitation, and prevent illegal disreputable trade of exotic animals". Specialty pets includes all "exotics" such as birds, reptiles, amphibians, fish, insects, and small mammals.

MCFC and its supporters and signatories to this petition strongly oppose:

1. The negative assertions by Winnipeg Animal Services that it is bad for animals to be born in captivity, that their needs can't be provided for, that hoarding is a significant problem, and that animals are illegally and disreputably sourced.
2. The introduction of a limited "approved/positive" species list, which will result in the automatic banning of thousands of commonly kept pet species ranging from parrots and finches to geckoes, snakes, hamsters, and fish.
3. Arbitrary, generalized limits on ownership (e.g., 5 animals per animal "family"), which can't take into account the many circumstances where reasonable possession limits can be higher or lower based on individual species needs and capacity to provide care (e.g., canaries in an aviary, fish in a tank, reptiles in an enclosure).
4. Banning breeding of specialty pets, which will eliminate local breeding and increase reliance on the importation of animals from unknown sources to meet market demand that will continue to exist for many commonly kept species.
5. Banning the rehoming of unapproved specialty pet species within Winnipeg, which would see thousands of animals kept in poor conditions due to the difficulty of rehoming, increases in surrenders and abandonment, and unnecessary euthanasia of pets.
6. The disregard for impacts to pet stores and veterinarians that provide important services for specialty pets. (Special note: unapproved species would no longer have access to vet care unless by-law exemptions are added)

As a stakeholder representing the interests of bird owners in Winnipeg, MCFC supports the motion to drop exotics from the RPO By-Law Review.

If when I retire and want to move to the city I can't find a home for them. This would mean I would have to euthanize them. I have had these as my companions like people have dogs and cats. This would be devastating. Please do not pass this by law. Thank you."

As well, I can see this causing some very poor practices to surface where animals will be bred in poor conditions to be sold in an underground “black market” type of situation. The restrictions will also reduce the availability of veterinary services available to existing exotic pets, which is already limited within Winnipeg, as the demand will be lower. The City should reassess their position and instead invest in educating the public on responsible ownership of these pets and perhaps implement some guidelines for breeders. I do not support the changes that are currently being proposed."

She is my absolute best friend. We nap together, cuddle, play, she makes me laugh, and is so much more of an emotional support animal than the dog I adopted to BE my emotional support animal. I do everything for my birds: they're out of the cage most of the day, have lots of toys, and frequent the vet. My girl, my best friend, has had many medical issues but keeps pushing on happily! It's her bond with me that has kept her alive. You can't take a bond like this away from people, it'll destroy both the person and the bird. While I'm lucky that my birds are budgies, I have met countless other bird species that have been a JOY to be around, and nearly adopted an Amazon, fostered an African Grey, etc. I can't imagine a world without my birds, if they were any other

The amount of knowledge I have now versus when I started as a bird hobbyist has grown astronomically. If this By-law proceeds the art of birding as we know it, the culture, the passion, the bonds we have with our birds and that of which we share with others during our annual displays is gone. Aviculture is a huge part of my life, and the life of many others here in Winnipeg. Other exotics owners with different species will also be affected and its clear that although changes need to be made... They need to be made the RIGHT way not in haste. Thank you for reading."

Not only should the proposed changes to “exotic animal” regulations be scrapped, a full review of investigation into the credentials of whomever was responsible for drafting this proposal need to be done. There are clearly some severely unqualified individuals attempting to manage animal welfare in this city. We need properly educated officials overseeing this, not whomever wrote these absurd regulation proposals"

I would be devastated if this by-law is passed. Canaries have been domesticated and bred since the 15th century. I have never heard of such a restrictive by-law anywhere until now. There is no overabundance of pet birds in Winnipeg and therefore there is no reason for these restrictions. I have been told by many people that their bird gives them a reason to get up in the morning. Not everyone has the space, resources or desire to own a cat or dog but still desire the companionship of a pet."

The proposition to only allow 2 out of the 196 species of the psitticuladae family is absolutely ridiculous. How can you justify not allowing a lovebird, bourke, or parrotlet in our homes? An excellent point that should be made with the proposed exotic bylaw is that lots of people are allergic to furry animals but can have a parrot as a companion animal. Having said that budgies and cockatiels are two species that people with allergies who can't have cats or dogs would also be allergic to due to the dusty dander they produce. So that leaves those people with very few options which could potentially be detrimental to their health. It has been proven that animals friends can help lower blood pressure in people and give them comfort and joy as well The proposed bylaw will put unnecessary strain on perfectly reputable and ethical breeders,A loss of jobs, and the potential to see"

Who could have come up with such a stupid idea to restrict decent people to practice their favorite hobby? All problems in the country have already been resolved, and all that remains is to make people happy. Such laws only benefit poachers and the black market. We keep and breed our birds not for profit, but out of love for nature, and all our birds for centuries have been kept and raised just like us."

Lynnea Parker	Winnipeg, MB	Canada	2021-08-19	"This proposed by-law targets the average person who loves their birds and takes good care of them. The species bans and arbitrary limits do nothing to address the small number of people who mistreat their animals. Don't punish all bird owners because of the faults of a few who have required use of the city's animal services resources. Also, the legal and reputable breeding of parrots in Canada for the pet trade is essential for ensuring that the black market in illegally captured wild birds has no place here. This by-law proposal for bird ownership falls short on every aspect of what it was intended for. It has nothing to do with animal welfare and everything to do with control."

My birds all came from small scale Manitoba breeders and are cared for better than many people care for their dogs and cats, complete with veterinary wellness visits. Banning ownership of exotic birds will not help reduce illegal pet trade, it is more likely to increase it. I understand that I can keep my existing birds but at the same time, if it should become necessary to rehome my birds, my right to rehome them with someone I know and trust has been taken away."

There is no reason to ban the keeping of these beautiful creatures. We've had Canaries most of our lives and they brought sunshine into dark days with their songs. That is not something that should be taken away from anyone. This bylaw makes no sense and should never pass. I don't believe the ones responsible for trying to push it through have ever kept any pets and don't know the joy they bring. I don't even believe that they are animal lovers or care about the welfare of people."

The poor creatures are tossed out the door like unwanted garbage. Birds are a companion animal that are kept in the home and in most cases a beloved part of the family. They bring joy and companionship to young and elderly people alike. There is nothing in the animal kingdom that can compare to the variety of colors in birds. Their beauty and song and antics are a sight to behold. I have had birds all my life and can't imagine my home without them. What the city is trying to do in banning the majority of birds as well as banning certain fish and reptiles (I thought we already went through the reptile banning thing with the city not too long ago) is ridiculous, not thought out and did not ask the people of Winnipeg what their thoughts are on the subject, before quickly sneaking another useless bylaw under our noses. I would rather see Wnnipeggers educated on responsible bird ownership and inspection of breeders premises to ensure birds are well cared for. Lastly, I do not understand why this bylaw is being put In place. What problem is it trying to solve? Birds are not like dogs or cats. They do not impact the neighbourhood they live in. Additionally, most are gregarious and live in flocks. Limiting owners to 5 will be detrimental to the health and well-being of pet birds."

What happens to parrots/reptiles who outlive their owners or for whatever reason require a more appropriate home? Who will be taking in all these abandoned animals? Some parrot species live up to 80 years! I guarantee people will continue to breed/ sell/ acquire birds. What if people stop taking their animals to the vet for fear of having them confiscated? If exotics are confiscated what happens to them? Will there be a facility built with trained staff to care for them? What happens to these animals."

My best friend lives with me and breeds rats for people who want cute smart rats as pets, and for food for the MANY snakes that need to eat rats to live. I own one of the snakes on the ban list they are proposing, though if my snake gets out he would be dead by winter as they are not able to live in our cold during winter, so no fear of a "bermise python in florida" happening with them.We have two adult kids that live with us. and both have a dog and a cat that they have raised since kids themselves. then I have a dog, and my husband a cat. The friend has a dog and cat as well. We would be effected. None of our animals go without and everyone does their job to keep the house clean and healthy for these animals. we are always taking in abused animals and rehabilitating them and finding forever homes for them. We have fostered for the rescues in this city, and I use to volunteer with the humane society. This is stupid, it was stupid when all my pets needed"

Jennifer Enns	Winnipeg, MB	Canada	2021-10-13	"I think parrots make wonderful companions and I have lived with several birds who were very special characters. I can also see the city's point about the risk of hoarding and/or pet owners not being able to provide good care for their birds. They're not domesticated. Winnipeg's climate is not well suited for them to spend much time out of doors (e.g. in an aviary). It can be difficult to find consistent vet care for parrots here, since not many vets train in this specialty. However, if Winnipeg is going to ban ownership of most parrots, it simply doesn't make sense for the grandfathering rule to apply only to the bird owner's life and not the birds' lives. If I were to die before the end of my parrot's life, why should it then be illegal for someone else to take her in and care for her? Is this not the opposite outcome of what the bylaw is trying to achieve? If this goes ahead, please reconsider how this grandfathering rule is implemented."

I fear what would have happened to him if this petition passes. This makes bird owners sound like we are doing something illegal now by having a pet bird. What happens to all those birds(non budgies/cockatiels)who need to find loving homes for whatever reason. What will happen to them. Please focus on responsible cat and dog ownership(still not even halfway there in my opinion) and leave these beautiful, magestic creatures alone! This bill would harm these innocent birds, NOT help them!!"

Signatures and comments from other provinces in Canada

4,680 signatures and 217 comments were gathered from provinces other than Manitoba. Number of signatures by province: 948 from British Columbia (BC), 503 Alberta (AB), 122 Saskatchewan (SK), 2,141 Ontario (ON), 609 Quebec (QC), 31 Newfoundland and Labrador (NL), 90 New Brunswick (NB), 130 Nova Scotia (NS), 7 Prince Edward Island (PE), 5 Northwest Territories (NT), 5 Yukon (YU), 89 unspecified province. Residents of Canada outside of Manitoba are concerned about the precedent that the proposed by-law amendments could set.

Kathy St.Pierre	Edmonton, AB	Canada	2021-08-19	"I'm concerned that this will have a negative effect on grandfathered birds who will have less resources available (vet services and food supply) to them. Also, sometimes people face illness or extreme hardships in life that makes it necessary to rehome pets. What happens to these grandfathered birds if removing isn't allowed? Rehoming outside of the city makes it exponentially harder to find safe and caring care for these birds."

Cheryl Buell	Dundurn, SK	Canada	2021-08-21	"I had a cockatiel who was a rescue when I lived in Winnipeg. If the proposed rules had been around at the time, she and the rest of the flock she came from may not have been able to find a home when the previous owner was no longer able to care for them. Ending the pitbull ban is good. Considering the contents of the rest of the animal bylaws and, after a properly constituted period of consultation making any necessary changes that will ensure the best welfare of the animals in question is also good. These proposed regulations are not good. Take the time, and do it right."

I breed not just as a Hobbyist for my love of budgies, but I also breed them for the Pet Trade (Non-Corperational) and it's that that to us Breeders is that we can supply the demand in ethical ways to battle the Black-Market Trade. It is essential us Breeders supply, and having us banned will result in higher illegal trading crimes across Canada. Not only that, the alliances Clients and Breeders form is immense and cannot be stripped."

SIMONE WILLIAMS	Pefferlaw, ON	Canada	2021-08-23	"I support the ownership and breeding of already captive birds. There are many responsible owners/breeders, that treat these animals like family. Many of these birds cannot survive in Canada without human intervention and would not be an invasive species to threaten native species. Many of the species in Canada are not able to return to the wild because they have been extripated from their natural habitat, due habitat loss, like deforestation and human development. Also, these animals being with humans for numerous generations are domesticated and would not survive in the wild. Just like many domesticated dogs. If you wanted to ban an animal, you should ban cats as they pose a greater threat to native bird populations in Canada. Zoos, rescues, breeders and many pet owners are educated in husbandry, health care and conservation of the animals they keep. There is no need for a ban of these animals in the care of competent owners. However, there would be potential benefits to requiring registration or li"

David Peter		Canada	2021-08-23	"I am opposed to the changes to Winnipeg's pet ownership bylaw.This would ban almost all species of parrot and limit the kinds of finch and canary species.What is the purpose of this? They are not nuisance pets like barking dogs or, worse, pit bull dogs.They are not like cats that are left to wander in and out of neighbors property.These are animals that are as much of a neighborhood nuisance as tropical fish, which is to say, not at all.A neighbor would not even know you owned a bird unless that neighbor was allowed into your home.I do not own a bird and never have, but I see no reason to regulate something that bothers NO ONE!"

They are incredibly intelligent and need to be loved as any dog or cat. They become your family and people that care for them really do they all have wonderful personalities and feel things with such emotions as any dog, cat or even a toddler as most parrots have the intelligence upto the capacity of a three year old and you can't tell me they don't have thoughts and feelings. Umi for instance knew what time my mum should be home and would on her own go and wait at the door for her minutes before she would arrive and before you could hear a car so she knew what time she'd be home. georgina eisenor	Dartmouth, NS	Canada	2021-08-26	"I am a former hookbill breeder and hope once retired to enjoy the company of a pet bird again and while I see the keeping of any exotic type of pet something that should require some learning on part of owners I think this ban is ridiculous. Ban wild caught birds, not captive raised. Breeders of some of these species are ensuring the continuation of the species as numbers in the wild diminish."

It's hard enough to find an Avian vet, let alone an exotic vet. So while animals would be "grandfathered" essentially it is a death sentence for those birds and animals."

Justin Porter	Pefferlaw, ON	Canada	2021-08-26	"These birds are easy to care for and have low environmental impact compared to many other common pets, such as dogs and cats. The long history of captive breeding in Canada and responsible breeder associations means that keeping these birds as pets does not contribute to the depletion of their wild populations and may, in fact help to preserve the existence of these species, since many of their native ranges are threatened or already destroyed by habitat loss. Although domesticated pets that have been raised in captivity cannot be released or reintroduced into the wild, they provide companionship to their owners and support the mental health and emotional well-being of the people who lovingly care for them.Just as I would not support an effort to take dogs and cats away from the responsible owners who love and care for them, I strongly believe that bird owners should be allowed to keep their companions. Similarly, I would support efforts to register or license pet ownership like most places do with dogs an"

Dawn Steeves	Nelson, BC	Canada	2021-08-27	"Though not from Winnipeg, I am a happy owner of one green cheek conure, who is very friendly and hand bred and tamed and a companion animal as I am allergic to dog and cat hair. I can't imagine not having him or being able to get him a suitable companion, as cockatiels and budgies are not nearly as social and loving. I'm very afraid of this law being spread outside of Winnipeg and feel bad for any pet owners inside the city."

Karen Crawford	North York, ON	Canada	2021-08-28	"I am signing today because I think this proposed bylaw in the City of Winnipeg is ridiculous . How can you ban ownership of pet parrots , finches and canaries ? Parrots, finches and canaries are companion animals. The people that have these birds in their homes consider them family members . Apparently this By-law review in Winnipeg includes sweeping and drastic changes to pet bird, reptile, amphibian and fish ownership. This new By-law sounds ludicrous . There is enough for people in Winnipeg to be concerned about and to subject owners of pets to these proposed By-law changes is irresponsible ."

Kim Brown	Saint John, NB	Canada	2021-08-31	"I think this law will cause a lot of deaths in these exotic birds. Everytime we hear from government lately it's to kill a species off. They should be putting more into how this poor animals are being smuggled into the country. That would be my main concern. Not people who already have one. Once they are in a family they are like any other pet and can't be rehomed easily. So sick of hearing about these cullings . Because all that the government does is kill them them. They don't ship them home. Plus they are trained pets and would find it difficult to adapt."

Kim Brown	Oakville, ON	Canada	2021-09-07	"I think this law will cause a lot of deaths in these exotic birds. Everytime we hear from government lately it's to kill a species off. They should be putting more into how this poor animals are being smuggled into the country. That would be my main concern. Not people who already have one. Once they are in a family they are like any other pet and can't be rehomed easily. So sick of hearing about these cullings . Because all that the government does is kill them them. They don't ship them home. Plus they are trained pets and would find it difficult to adapt."

Attalie Kam	Edmonton, AB	Canada	2021-09-08	"This particular proposal has a lot of problems but I'll just make a list of the ones I find specifically problematic. First of all, sometimes the commonality of an animal as a pet would say something about the ease of their care and breeding. For instance, the reason Bearded Dragons are so popular as pets is because they're relatively easy to breed in captivity and there's a lot of information on how to care for them. That isn't true with species like the Bushy-tailed Jird and the Zebra-tailed lizard (which by the way are on the list and I've NEVER seen these species in big chain pet stores and I know they're not common as exotic pets, at least where I live). Second, their attempts to ban the feeding of wildlife and make pest control more "sustainable" and "humane" would have a lot of unintended consequences. For instance, people may

My oldest Amazon parrot I have had for life time of 54 years old and it has never been a threat to the community here; also my other Cockatoo of 32 years old. These people are ignorant to know what these birds are all about and I daresay they have never experienced owningsuch. At least save the birds if they are intent against other exotic types of animals. We Canadians here in Ontario years ago had to go our City Hall to protest this same kind of ruling and we won. Go fight!"

Suddenly making them illegal would put so many people out of work, and make a bunch of existing resident birds illegal. Many of these birds live as long as humans, and being able to rehome them legally and safely is critical to their survival! Do not pass the proposed law as-is, consult the avian community for safer rewording. Just passing laws without considering the effect on both humans and the birds the law professes to be keeping safe is negligent and tyrannical. Don't be like the United States, please."

I enjoyed her until she died in 2012, age 56. It saddens me to think how, if this ban passes, future bird aficionados will not be able to do this.Do better, Winnipeg. You're not addressing an urgent problem. It's almost as if you're just bored and looking for attention. See if you can't find a more productive way to spend your time."

Lea Hollingsworth-Ramsey	Kailua, Hawaii	United States	2021-08-24	"Each person should be able to determine how many birds they want to own. If they have 2 pairs and those birds have babies, then they are suddenly over the limit. What would you have them do? Kill the babies? Aviculture is an important process in the conservation of species. There are some endangered species (Spix macaw is a perfect example) that would have gone completely extinct if it wasn't for private breeders and owners that kept these birds in their care. Now those birds are being used in specialized breeding programs to reintroduce the species back into the wild. Parrots are difficult to keep, and the people that take the time to provide good homes where they eat a healthy diet, have ample space, and proper veterinary care are few and far in between. Those are the folks that often have lots of birds because they take in abused, neglected and unwanted parrots. What would you do? Remove these birds from excellent homes and turn them over to unskilled persons where they will not be fed properly. Not house"

I am all for reducing the illegal wild Bird trade but I don't believe in euthanasing birds once their owners have passed away, they should be allowed to be looked after by family members or people who love birds as some live for very long time. By all means create a register of Bird ownership, like microchipping and registering pet dogs and cats as proof of ownership etc."

Brian Anuvattanachai	Chino Hills, California	United States	2021-09-01	"Governments needs to stop bullying niche pet owners, Just because the pets we keep doesn't fit their idea of a pet. This does not give them the right to force their views on us. Outdoor cats are a tremendous threat to the environment, yet no one does anything about it... But, when Florida had issues with invasive exotic reptiles Florida Fish & Wildlife recently started to ban them. Why? It's because dogs and cats are valued as pets more than other animals. All other animals are seen as being the low man on the totem pole, therefore disposable."
