Comments in writing: AVL is an effective means to monitor the misuse of city vehicles.

City hall is wasting the time and skills of the Auditor. He even says so in his report. If anyone really cared about waste, action would have been taken in the years since the problem was first waved around in public.

Wasting the time of your auditor seems to be little more than a means of kicking this major problem down the road. There is no sign that this pattern will not go on forever.
