EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This audit consisted of a high-level review and assessment of five in-scope department store operations with the focus on inventory management and purchasing policies, processes, and controls. The assessment of the sufficiency of the current state operations considered procurement, inventory management, warehouse management and operations compared to leading practices.

A summary of the key observations includes:

- Stores operations of the five departments are consistent with leading practices in a number of key areas: purchase approval, purchase guidelines, and inventory adjustments.
- However, there do exist gaps in some key areas (e.g. manual requisitions, lack of performance targets for reviewing and monitoring inventory management, lack of documented standardized procedures) which should be addressed to ensure stores operations are operated effectively and efficiently with sufficient controls in place to manage the risks, including but not limited to obsolescence and loss.
