Comments in writing: In all the decades of my service in Crown Corp, city civil service, and private industry, I was never aware of any person or team given 6 or more months to distill an extant report into an action plan. Usually such an assignment would be due in a week or less. By setting a 180 day target, this looks a lot like kicking the matter down the road. If this is not the intent, please consider changing the due date to 30 days hence.
