The folks who worked diligently to get each of you elected were volunteers. I have been one of those volunteers for decades.
Volunteers do a far better job than those paid a minimal wage.
Stories on TV tell us that there are many folks who support this search. As this process moves forward, I suggest that those related to the victims be consulted, and asked to provide sufficient volunteers to do the actual scanning of the material on the conveyor belts. Setting up the machinery, and operating the vehicles would have to be done by city staff for a number of reasons. The folks who are so motivated that they spend weeks in the cold protesting should be given the chance to actually search.
