Comments in writing: This report says the right things, and sets the right goals. All of them are very conventional. There have been problems with past CAOs, and the infamous decisions made by the higher echelons of city government, under past administrations. There is no suggestion in the Audit plan that steps are currently being taken to assure everyone that such problems will not be repeated. There are some folks for whom common checks and balances do not apply. That work must be subject to unusual if infrequent scrutiny.
