Comments in writing: Since the province bungled the chance to prevent future flooding on the Red, after the 1997 flood, properties everywhere ware washing away in every high-flow season. We need to help by protecting our riverbanks in every way. Charging a share of the cost to the property owner is fair, but the work must be done.
Rebuilding the wetlands that once held back surges in water flow was rejected by the NDP's MFA decades ago, and as a result we must mitigate.
