Comments in writing: I speak for many suburban residents when I deplore the motion before you. For years, we hear of those who have nice sidewalks, that are plowed by the city. We hear complaints that the low may leave a cm of snow on the sidewalk. These complaints ring hollow for those who must walk on the road because there is no sidewalk, and there is no plowing of the street either. Remember that if you again vote to spend more money on sidewalks, as requested, that you are insulting those whose plight you ignore. As was so ably pointed out by the PW folks, there is no published human right to a plowed-bare sidewalk.
