Comments in writing: I am pleased that staff are being granted an extra 120 days to work on this task. This should be ample time to develop the documentation to better reflect the purpose and the intention for this new position. We need a person conversant in the construction work we do, but we need more than that. We need a person who can foresee and mitigate delays in completion of projects, and who can offer innovative ways to minimize costs and other 'problems' before they become headlines.
