Good decision making depends on a robust delegation system. All forms of deterrence result in concerns and good ideas not being brought to members of Council.
When walking a few blocks to city hall, and when riding the bus did not put travelers at risk, driving to Main St could have been considered a luxury. This is no longer true. Expecting to speak before noon too often disappoints. Hearing delegations before going to lunch is an option not mentioned. It should be. There is a lot of room for improvement in the delegation processes.

I consent to being contacted to participate in potential public engagement related to this matter.
