I am deeply disappointed in the decision to delay progress on the Wellington Crescent bike lane. Every time I ride my bike I experience aggressive drivers speeding by too close, and fear for my safety when I know they aren't paying attention to me. People who choose active transportation and people who can't afford a personal vehicle deserve transportation equity and to feel safe as they move about the city. If protected bike lanes are going to take more time and money, then you should immediately implement a 30km/h speed limit for all of Wellington. No excuses, this is the lowest cost, absolute minimum action you can take. Do something!! Follow through with what you promised.
