Comments
Your audit team makes good comments, as usual. Will you commit to their requests?
I see very few actual FUNCTIONAL AUDITS in 2025. Why? You need to know how often programs fail, and so do voters.
I see no mention of the times that city purchasing rules were violated. Should that not be a top topic, even if such spending is not in the millions? It represents spending that is improper and sometimes because someone abused their power at city hall. Both should be red flags to auditors.
