Temp integrity person: Why is this position being filled? During the period from now until the election, this person will be forbidden, by city hall rules, from investigating and reporting. Has no one considered this fact? Recall that the ethics rules were written to make sure that a finding of wrongdoing would not affect a campaign for reelection. This rule seems to place everyone involved in a grave conflict of interest, but that is how the rules were written years ago. It seems that any fees paid will be wasted tax dollars.

Why is this work being done by the same company as the previous ethics person? Why are normal, competitive public-purchasing rules not followed? Why are we paying for a person at the partner level of a major law firm? The job is very simple. It requires no advanced skills and no courtroom experience. Certainly there are far cheaper ways that this simple service can be provided.
