Nearby short term rental accommodations have been a continual source of public nuisance, harassment, and destructive behaviour towards neighbouring properties. Absentee landlords of these accommodations refuse to take any action to remediate or prevent these issues. The local quality of life has dropped terribly, hopefully these proposed recommendations may begin to address outstanding issues. Furthermore the operation of short term rentals in properties other than the owner's primary residence must end without "grandfathered" exceptions for existing operations. These are predatory operations, wrecking local communities, and removing housing stock from the market during a housing crisis.
